

Decision ("Exceptions") in the above-referenced proceeding. In support hereof, the following is shown:

1. The Initial Decision of Administrative Law Judge Arthur J. Steinberg, FCC 97D-09 (the "I.D."), was released in this proceeding on August 21, 1997. Accordingly, pursuant to §1.276(a) of the Commission's rules, the Licensees' Exceptions are due to be filed no later than September 22, 1997. With the informal consent of the Mass Media Bureau, the Licensees respectfully request an extension of time, to and including October 31, 1997, for the filing of their Exceptions for the following reasons.

2. The I.D. is not only unusually lengthy (53 single-spaced pages), but it also imposes the gravest penalty available against the Licensees -- the revocation of five radio broadcast station licenses and two construction permits for new stations. In view of the substantial amount of material in the I.D. to be analyzed and the severity of the penalty imposed therein, equity dictates that counsel be permitted adequate time to prepare the Exceptions. Moreover, counsel primarily responsible for preparation of the Exceptions already have had, and will have in the future, certain prior commitments that adversely impact their ability to meet the current September 22, 1997 due date for the Exceptions.^{1/}

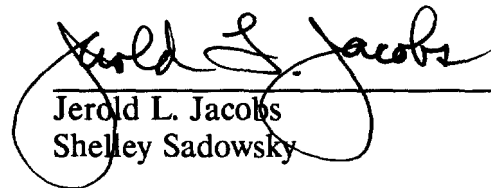

3. An extension through October 31, 1997, for the filing of the Licensee's Exceptions, at first blush, might appear lengthy, but given the fact that counsel will be observing two intervening Jewish holidays (Rosh Hashana, October 1-3, 1997, and Yom Kippur, October 10-11, 1997), the requested extension is reasonable. Moreover, the Mass Media Bureau has informally notified counsel that it consents to the requested extension. Thus, no party to

^{1/} Counsel will be attending the National Association of Broadcasters convention to be held in New Orleans from September 17 through September 20, 1997. Moreover, some valuable time has already been lost due to the fact that two counsel were on vacation when the I.D. was issued, one of whom will not be returning until September 2, 1997.

this case will be prejudiced by the requested extension of time granted to the Licensees for the filing of their Exceptions. And, in the final analysis, the requested extension should not unduly delay the ultimate outcome of this proceeding. Accordingly, good cause exists for a grant of the requested extension of time.

WHEREFORE, for the reasons set forth above, the Licensees respectfully request an extension of time through October 31, 1997, for the filing of their Exceptions to the LD in this proceeding.

Respectfully submitted,

Jerold L. Jacobs
Shelley Sadowsky
